TSK! TSK!

Attempt of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce to change the name Patricia Bay Airport to Victoria Airport hasn't solved all the problems of air travel in this area.

A Sidney couple originally came from Ontario and they enjoy many visits from old friends still residing in that distant province. This week one lady travelled to Vancouver. While in Vancouver she decided to fly over to Sidney and enjoy a visit with her friends. So far, so good.

The Ontario lady contacted Vancouver's T.C.A. office, stating that she wished to fly to Sidney. You've guessed it already!

"No, you cannot fly to Sidney," reported the T.C.A. spokesman. "You must go to Victoria and then travel out to Sidney." The lady accepted this ruling . . . then put on her thinking cap.

She telephoned her Sidney friends and asked if the advice she had received from T.C.A. was true. They were indignant, and gave her more accurate information. Accordingly she flew in a T.C.A. plane to Patricia Bay Airport and was whisked in 2½ minutes by Monty Collins' Taxi to the home of her friends.

OAK BAY REQUEST TABLED

At Sidney village council meeting Tuesday night a letter was read from the municipal district of Oak Bay asking for Sidney's support in their request to Mr. Bonner for government action to have the C.P.R. ferry from Victoria to Vancouver continued. The council decided to table the request.

Yacht Entry Down But Cars Increase

Total number of yachts coming to Sidney is down this year compared to last, due mainly to the opening this year of Bedwell Harbor but the number of foreign cars coming and going from Sidney to Anacortes has increased over last year despite the fact that the ferry strike was on.

Last July a total of 814 U.S. yachts passed through Canadian Customs at Sidney as compared to 502 this July. Despite a large number reporting at Bedwell Harbor a number of craft are still visiting Sidney after reporting there.

Total U.S. cars coming into Sidney last year was 3,400 as compared to 3,075 in this year. Total U.S. cars leaving Sidney last year stood at 3,426 while this year 3,478 left.

The following is the breakdown of the remaining figures: first figure is the traffic for July, 1959, and in parentheses is the figure for July of last year. Canadian cars in 1,639 (2,460), out 2,052 (2,300); Canadian passengers in 6,329 (9,025), out 7,036 (9,165); foreign passengers in 14,307 (15,202), out 12,177 (11,043).

Youngsters Swarm To Recreation Classes At Sidney

The attention of the juniors has wandered from their plasticine as they idly glance towards the camera. Aged up to eight years, the juniors are slow to concentrate for any length of time but they also welcomed the novelty of having their pictures taken.

Large families are less common here than was the case five decades ago. Nevertheless one Sidney lady has suddenly augmented her family from one child to nearly 60. From morning until midday Mrs. Rita Morris is watching, directing, controlling and teaching nearly 60 noisy, active small children, mostly bent on mischief and many finding it.

The scene at SANSCHA hall during the mornings is one which would feaze many a mother. The children are divided into two groups, the juniors whose ages are eight or under and the seniors ranging up to 12 years of age.

Director of the summer recreation school. Mrs. Morris is justifiably proud of the manner in which she can keep order among the children. For the occasion Mrs. Morris has borrowed the authority of the police in her native London, England. She carries a police whistle tied around her neck and blows it for order.

The classes, which are free, are sponsored by Sidney Recreation Commission. The lower floor of SANSCHA hall is used although during the heat wave most of the children are to be found in the park outside the hall.

The classes were arranged by the recreation commission with a careful thought to the cultural pursuits. Experience has indicated that any great quantity of music proves boring to the students. En masse, says Mrs. Morris, they seek entertainment more than instruction.

To combat the boredom she has introduced a series of periods where she reads to the children, choosing a passage which will hold their interest at the same time as offering some information. On the instructional side of the picture Mrs. Morris also engages the students in a series of discussions, concentrating largely on nature and natural phenomena.

POPULAR PASTIME
The students each take part in games, particularly popular with the juniors. Baseball is a strictly scratch affair owing to the lack of numbers taking part. Michael Morris, son of the director, specializes in art and modelling in plasticine. The various students are all encouraged to model a variety of objects and to draw and crayon.

The summer school is popular all around. The students enjoy the facilities and the instructors enjoy offering them. Particularly happy are the parents who have watched their children display the boredom of a long, long holiday.

Low Pressure In Water Mains In Sidney District

More public co-operation is needed in order to maintain a reserve water supply and adequate pressure in case of fire, stated Sidney Waterworks Engineer G. A. Gardner this week, following a week-end of reduced pressure over the entire district.

"I would strongly request the general public to use water with discretion during peak periods in order that further rigid restrictions will not have to be enforced," he further stated.

From Friday midnight to Saturday midnight the water district consumed 310,000 gallons, while the pumps were only able to replenish a supply of 220,000 gallons during the period, thus drawing heavily on the reserve of 100,000 gallons which was almost depleted. The only means the department had of gaining on the heavy drain of supplies was to reduce pressure so that garden waterers could use only limited amounts. Some housewives found it impossible to fill their washing machines over the week-end, while others used buckets to fill them to an operating level.

STRINGENT RULES

The district felt that unless an ease-off on watering was noticed shortly, further restrictions will have to be enforced and elimination of watering of gardens will have to be ordered.

The peak periods of Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturdays are the biggest drains on the system and unless there is a let-up on the amount of water consumed at these periods, Mr. Gardner could see nothing but enforcing the plan already drawn up by the water trustees for further restrictions.

JOSEPH HAMON PASSES AWAY SUDDENLY

Joseph Hamon, passed away suddenly at his home 2313 Orchard Ave. on Tuesday evening, August 4, at the age of 74 years.

A resident of Sidney for the past 12 years, Mr. Hamon was born in France and leaves to mourn his wife Imelda, at home; one son, John, at Wakaw, Sask., and one daughter (Marie) Mrs. J. Hamoline, at Vanda, Sask.

Mass will be conducted Saturday, Aug. 8, at 10 a.m. in St. Elizabeth's Roman Catholic church, Sidney, with prayers in Sands Chapel of Roses, Friday, Aug. 7, at 8 p.m. Interment will be at Royal Oak cemetery.

MEETING TO DISCUSS SALE FERRY LAND

Representatives of Sidney village will meet with deputy minister of highways, H. T. Miard on Wednesday to discuss the sale of village property adjoining the new wharf being built by the federal government.

The meeting called by Mr. Miard will iron out details for the sale of the land and the providing of access roads to the parking area. The land will provide parking for approximately 400 cars for the provincial section of the ferry service. It is from this area that the province plans to operate their ferry service to the B.C. mainland.

AGGRESSIVE COLLECTORS

Here's a tip for the village fathers of Sidney. It's from the Salmon Arm Observer where they are really aggressive at collecting small amounts owing to the village.

The Observer reports as follows: "Court action will be taken by Salmon Arm village commission against a contractor to enforce payment of a penalty of $1.07 imposed for non-payment of his trades license for the first half of the current year before the stipulated date."

"Collector F. B. Magee reported to the commission Monday night that the contractor had finally paid his trades license, but after the date on which the penalty of 25 per cent became effective. Advised that he would have to pay an additional $1.07 for his tardiness, he flatly refused."

"We can't make fish of one and flesh of another and we will have to take action to enforce payment," commented Chairman Victor Nancollins."

INCREASED COSTS

An increase of $25 a month will be charged by B. Bowett for the additional hauling of garbage for the Village of Sidney according to Village Clerk A. Sharp.

BOMBING OF SIDNEY GIVEN COUNCIL O.K.

Sidney will be bombed on August 15 by planes of the R.C.A.F. stationed at Comox with the approval of Sidney council. The only stipulation recommended by Council was that the bombs be dropped one at a time rather than in a mass.

The situation arose from a request by the air force, publicity bureau at Comox who asked council's approval to drop leaflets advertising Air Force Day at Comox on Saturday, Aug. 22. Chairman for Sidney council, Dr. Hemmings gave council's approval as long as the leaflets were dropped singularly and not in mass, with the possible injury to some observer.

ALL QUIET ON FERRY FRONT!

—Cabinet To Meet

Premier Bennett's cabinet has not yet sat down to face the problem of aggravating ferry service between Swartz Bay and the outer Gulf Island group. Members of the cabinet have been scheduled to debate this vexing problem on Monday of this week. Island representatives have been advised that the discussion was postponed, but that the matter will be tackled by the cabinet at a meeting now scheduled for Vancouver on Thursday of this week. Just why the three-day postponement came about is not immediately clear.

On Tuesday Hon. P. A. Gagliardi, minister of highways under whose department ferries are administered, reported to the islanders by telephone. He promised "to look into the situation at once". His assurance brought happiness to the troubled residents. They turned handspins for joy.

"Cars were left at Swartz Bay on Saturday morning. On Sunday afternoon 11 were left at Port Washington. M.V. Cy Peck returned from Swartz Bay for them, but some had been waiting since 2.30 p.m. and didn't get to Swartz Bay until nearly 9 p.m. Cars were left at Port Washington again on Monday morning. This summer will go down in the annals of Pender Island as the summer of the 'Big Stall', said one disillusioned resident to The Review on Tuesday.

PARKING AREA SCHOOL OFFICE HARD TOPPED

School District No. 63 (Saanich) new school board office at 9751 Third St., had their parking area completely hard-surfaced last week and it is hoped that landscaping of the remaining property will be completed this fall, stated A. G. Blair, secretary of the school district.

Ambulance Drive Yields $1,100 On Thursday Night

Resplendent in a new sign, Sidney emergency ambulance is now completely paid for and thoroughly equipped.

House-to-house canvass staged on Thursday evening of last week brought in a total of $1,100 in addition to other sums pledged for the future.

The canvass was organized by the Sidney Kinsmen Club, who purchased the ambulance, assisted by the Sidney and North Saanich volunteer firemen, who will operate it. The vehicle had been put into operation before the final payment was made. It was short of a radio set and other equipment. Kinsmen decided to stage the canvass in an effort to clear the new service of debt and to equip it suitably for its new purpose.

Late on Thursday night the chairman of the campaign, Gerry Flint, announced that the target was almost reached.

Collection will clear the outstanding payments on the ambulance and will provide the radio equipment. It is hoped that a few more donations will be received from those who were away from home when the canvasser called or who were not called upon to donate for any reason. The fund campaigners hope to provide a greater quantity of linen for use with the vehicle and to ensure that no item is missing from its equipment when called out for any type of rescue operation.

Donations may be mailed to Sidney Kinsmen Ambulance Fund, P.O. Box 273, Sidney.

WEEK-END UP-ISLAND TRIP SOBERING EXPERIENCE

Motels Nearly Empty — Strikes Cripple Economy

(BY OBSERVER)

A trip up-island during the busy tourist summer season is a sobering experience. A Review man drove up to Campbell River on Saturday, paid a call at Port Alberni on Sunday and returned home on Sunday evening with a lot to reflect upon.

Normally during the busy months of July and August it has been our custom to telephone ahead to one of the publishers of up-island newspapers and ask him to secure us accommodation. This time we telephoned on Saturday morning, the call didn't get through, so we took a chance and went anyway—fearing that we might have to spend the night in the car. As it often the case, some of our worst fears proved needless.

We could have had our choice of accommodation at practically every motel and hotel between Victoria and Campbell River. While the distasteful side of the family drove so that this reporter could observe—and we took special note of motels. We may not have scrutinized every one between Victoria and Campbell River, but we did not see one motel which displayed a "No Vacancy" sign. This was the last Saturday in July. In recent years this period has been considered the peak of the tourist rush. But there is a notable lack of tourists this year. Motel operators are facing financial ruin.

One large hotel in Qualicum Beach hasn't opened its doors for business this summer. Last year the operating loss was several thousand dollars. And there are so few tourists this year that the owner considered it unwise to open at all. Other large and popular stopping places in that busy area are operating from one-third to one-half capacity, we were informed.

We stayed at the comfortable and modern Marina hotel in Campbell River. There we loafed and relaxed. But our observation suggested that they could have accommodated many, many more people.

On the other hand a short drive around the well appointed camping area at Miracle Beach was something of an eye-opener. We did not see one camping site which was not occupied. By far the majority of license plates were those of British Columbia. One camper reported that many of those stopping at Miracle Beach were striking loggers and fishermen—walking out the strike under as cheap and comfortable conditions as possible.

IDLE FLEET

The fishing fleet tied up in Campbell River harbor was a sight to behold. It is a heartache to see these modern vessels which must be valued conservatively at many millions of dollars, riding at anchor while the salmon run is in full progress.

We chatted with representative local citizens at many centres. The man who filled the gasoline tank and the hotel employee and the man on the street all branded both the loggers' strike and the fishermen's strike as evil things. The consensus . . . Continued on Page Four

GOLDEN WEDDING RECALLS OLD NEW YORK CEREMONY

Sidney couple are celebrating the 50th anniversary of their wedding which gained note across the world. Frank Butler spent the morning of his wedding day frantically trying to keep the minister on tap, while his bride was aboard ship and itching at customs restrictions which prevented her from making a direct line to the Little Church Around the Corner.

Mr. and Mrs. Butler were married in that church at 9.15 in the evening of August 14, 1909. Officiating clergyman, Rev. John von Herrlich, had been clad in his vestments for the last part of the day awaiting the arrival of the bride.

However, finally the ceremony took place and the Toledo Times reported the effulgence of the organ straining through the stained glass windows.

Today the events of the day have been lost in the passage of time, but they remain vivid in the minds of the couple who have crossed the northern hemisphere together many times since that day.

CARPENTER

The couple were both from Middlesex. Frank Butler had been apprenticed to a carpenter at Brentford. Prior to the conclusion of his course, he had elected to emigrate to the United States with an associate. They were soon away from their native shore. His real home was in a small village near Brentford; it is now better known as Heath Row.

Upon his departure he promised Beatrice Philp, a girl from the next village that he would return to claim her as his bride. Events proved his promise untenable.

A year later, he wired his bride to advise her that he could not get away for the ceremony planned for Middlesex. He instructed her to take a ship and they would be wed in New York. Miss Philp sailed across the ocean unaccompanied, quite a feat in that year, and met and married her swain in a late-evening ceremony.

THE BEGINNING

It was merely the beginning of her travels. Their first home was in Toledo, Ohio, where Mr. Butler was known as the "Y Englishman". Despite the epithet used quite affectionately he gained a good name for his work. Shortly after their arrival there, the couple moved to Iowa, where they decided the people were the salt of the earth. They found none who was unfriendly or unhelpful there.

Finally, they left Iowa and farmed near Moose Jaw. Mr. Butler was still working intermittently as a builder. Shortly before the First World War they abandoned their operation and sailed for England with their two children. Their voyage was followed by the outbreak of war. Mr. Butler had resumed farming near Bisley Camp and went to the Black Watch. For many years he had been a reserve army man. Within weeks of his enlistment he was discharged and directed to his own farm, where he remained until the end of the war. During that time he supplied Bisley Camp with most of its vegetables and farm produce.

During this period the couple met their first Russians and took a dislike to those they knew. The Russians were prisoners of war who were incarcerated for their refusal to fight on the western front. Always well-fed and well-provided with money, the Russians were notably big men with little enthusiasm for fighting.

BACK AGAIN

At the close of the war, seven years after having left Canada, they sailed back. They now had six children. Their first centre was Chilli-wack, but they were plagued by ill-health. One of their children was ailing and the damp climate, coupled with a barrage of mosquitoes proved her undoing. The family had to move away to save the youngster.

For seven years they lived in California. Mr. Butler was a builder and thoroughly enjoyed his residence there. At the close of the seven-year period he was required to take out naturalization papers. This he refused to do.

As an Englishman he was as good an American as he would be with those papers, he contended. The requirement spelt the end of their residence there. The family moved once again and came to Saanich Peninsula. They promptly acquired the home of Frank Spooner, father of the present manager of Sidney branch of the Bank of Montreal. They have lived in the same home ever since.

FOR 30 YEARS

For nearly three decades the North Saanich farmer was responsible for the grounds of the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society at Saanichton. He has also taken a keen interest in political matters. For many years he alternated with George Michell as president of the Conservative Association of this riding. He still hopes to see the association revived as a functional part of the community operation.

Today, after 32 years growing seed, Mr. Butler is on the verge of retirement. He still grows seed and he still runs a few cattle, but apart from his sheep he is out of business.

The North Saanich farmer has supplied the military on both sides of the Atlantic. During the First World War he supplied produce to the army at Bisley and during the Second World War he supplied milk and produce to Patricia Bay air force station, 7,000 miles away.

The couple have six children who

BRENTWOOD

Miss E. Girling, Grilse Lane, is spending a couple of months in England visiting with her brother whom she has not seen for many years, she will return home at the end of the month.

Holidaying at Qualicum Beach for two weeks are Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Delamere and family, Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Sluggett and family.

On Sunday, August 9, after the morning service, at the Brentwood United church, a luncheon will be held in the church hall. The congregation is invited to stay for lunch to bid farewell to Rev. and Mrs. H. Johnstone and family who are leaving in a few days for Vancouver where they will make their future home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Goldring and family have returned to their home, Benvenuto Ave., after spending their holiday touring up-Island.

Also touring up-Island for their holiday are Mr. and Mrs. W. Guellette and family, West Saanich Road, who left last Monday for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Olsen, Kitscoty are visiting the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. Critchley, 1143 Marchants Road.

will participate in the forthcoming celebration of 50 years of marriage. CHILDREN

Their only son is Dan Butler, of Sidney, at one time a trucker and today a member of the staff of T.C.A. at the airport. Their five daughters are Phyllis, in England; Thelma, Winnipeg; Gladys, Mary and Joan are all living in the Sidney area. They also have 16 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Seated in their living-room, Mr. and Mrs. Butler showed two possessions which are a tribute to the effort and devotion that the couple have given to their political beliefs. A hassock on the floor recalls the day that saw Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., first enter parliament from Saanich. He is now minister of defence. On the wall is a plaque which was presented to them by the late Col. McGregor Macintosh when he first entered the provincial legislature for the constituency.

Few long-time residents of the Peninsula can claim to have devoted so much to the political cause they embrace.

SALES INCREASE WHILE PROFITS ARE STAGNANT

Crown Zellerbach Canada Limited has announced that dollar sales volume of all its forest products in the first six months of 1959 totalled $47 million, and net income was $3.9 million.

In releasing the six-month report, G. H. Gallaway, president, said: "As we pointed out in our first quarter report this year, results in 1958 were seriously distorted by the strike of the pulp and paper unions against the industry which closed our primary pulp and paper mills for the first six weeks of 1958.

"Since 1956 sales have increased 32 per cent, while net income so far this year is approximately the same as it was this time in 1956, after severe declines in 1957 and 1958."

Mr. Gallaway said that the improvement in sales and the maintenance of income level "should be considered in the light of the large-scale capital investment in our recent major expansion program. For instance, we have spent $31.5 million in the past three years at our Elk Falls division alone."

A REAL EMERGENCY

THIS newspaper is published every week in an area which is not industrial by nature. Our economy is not tied to the apron strings of sawmills or factories or paper-making plants. Hard core of our economy is the retired man who continues to come to the Gulf Islands and the Saanich Peninsula in ever increasing numbers to enjoy leisurely life in an ideal climate. This is an ideal situation and one we would be very reluctant to change.

Nevertheless there is a real state of emergency today over much of Vancouver Island. The cause is very simple—the fishermen and the loggers are on strike. To strike, of course, is the right and privilege of these workers. But it seems to us that the resultant misery and want suffered by a great part of the populace of this island is the responsibility of the federal and provincial governments.

If a great earthquake occurred or if a river flooded or if a tornado struck, there would be want and privation. In such events governments would pass emergency legislation, if necessary, to grapple with the problem. But when a man-made emergency occurs, both federal and provincial governments assume a standoffish attitude and interest themselves in other things such as entertaining royalty and burning bonds.

For too long the economy of Vancouver Island has been devastated by strikes. If some steps are not taken in 1959 to cure this cancer, we can be certain that the situation will be worse in 1960. Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Premier Bennett certainly must be aware of the situation. They are the heads of our governments. And we wait with growing impatience for their corrective measures. Loss of a few votes must not be allowed to stand in the way of a permanent and lasting solution to the problem of the strike and its accompanying miseries to mankind.

HE HAS MANY FRIENDS

HE has lived here for a long time. And his continual genial good humor and cheery greeting have won him many friends throughout Sidney and North Saanich. We refer, of course, to Arthur Finch, recently retired from a long life of service to his fellow man while on the staff of Rest Haven Hospital. His departure from that well-known institution should not be allowed to pass unnoticed.

Mr. Finch, a dedicated worker for his church, was one of the original group of Seventh-day Adventists transferred here to re-open the structure as a hospital. It is no exaggeration to say that Mr. Finch, although serving often in a humble capacity, has made a sterling contribution to his adopted community and the hospital which serves it so well.

The Review has often thought that Arthur Finch was the best public-relations man that a hospital could have. Both Rest Haven Hospital and the community served owe a great debt of gratitude to him.

Everyone who knows Arthur Finch knows full well that he hasn't a lazy bone in his body. So it's not at all surprising that as soon as his services at the hospital were terminated, he went out and got himself another job. At time of writing he is employed as supervisor of the pumping plant of Sidney Waterworks District on the night shift. We'll be very surprised if trouble develops in the pumping plant while he's in charge.

Some men are particularly gifted in winning the confidence and good will of their fellow men. Arthur Finch is one of these.

R.C.M.P. SIDNEY

THIS is a marine district. And a further indication of its marine nature is the number of ships now being named after centres in this area. For some time R.C.M.P. Ganges has been ploughing coastal waters on marine patrol. This week saw the launching of R.C.M.P. Sidney at A. C. Benson Shipyard Ltd. in Coal Harbor, Vancouver. Many residents of Sidney will wish the new vessel a long and happy career in crime prevention on the B.C. coast.

Sponsor at the launching of the new ship was Mrs. J. R. W. Bordeleau, wife of Superintendent Bordeleau, chief of the criminal investigation branch of the R.C.M.P. in Victoria. A guard of honor in traditional red coats attended the ceremony. The Sidney, a sister of the Ganges, is 55 feet long, powered by twin 300-h.p. G.M. diesels.

We hope that Mounted Police officers can arrange an early visit of the new ship to Sidney. If she was tied up at the wharf here for a few hours, it would be of general interest to residents, we are confident. It may be that some public-spirited organization might want to present some little memento to the ship in honor of the occasion.

Two other ships with glorious futures are also now under construction in B.C. shipyards. We refer to M.V. Saanich and M.V. Delta, destined to be operated by the provincial government in regular service between Sidney and Tsawwassen Beach on the mainland. It may not be too soon to be giving some thought to the official celebration here which should mark the opening of this significant service.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

UNNECESSARY

Editor, Review,

Sir:

On Sunday, Aug. 2, we had the pleasure of driving to Crofton and then across on the ferry to Salt Spring Island where we had tea, and on to the Fulford ferry to Swartz Bay.

Our whole day was marred by the fact that on board this ferry was a truck load of howling sheep destined for the slaughterhouse.

It is incredible to believe farmers can let these animals grow up naturally in fields and then submit them to a fear-filled trip to the slaughterhouse.

Why not slaughter them on the farm and thus save the obvious discomfort endured by these innocent animals.

WATER FOLLIES ATTRACTION AT 1959 P.N.E.

A spectacular water and stage variety show will be one of the main attractions offered at this year's Pacific National Exhibition in addition to the ever-popular circus.

Water Follies will share the Forum with the Shrine-PNE Circus during the August 22 to September 7 exhibition.

A show that combines the skill and daring of Olympic champions, combined with colorful costumes, and gay music. Water Follies will play from August 22 to 29, two shows daily.

And this year's Polack Bros. Shrine-PNE circus will present an even greater attraction of "big top" thrills from August 31 to September 7 nightly with matinees.

Prince El Kigod will present his lion act; Princess Tajana will swing

MORE ABOUT STRIKES

sus in that area is, rightly or wrongly, that the strikes are Communist-inspired.

The waitress was an intelligent middle-aged woman. Her husband is a union carpenter idled by the lack of lumber and building materials. She was convinced that the strikes are forced on the workers who would rather work at prevailing wages.

"Why did they vote to strike?" we asked her.

"Because they are convinced that's the only way they can increase their wage scale," she replied.

"Tell me, was it vitally necessary for the loggers to secure additional pay this year? In other words was their standard of living so low last year that a further boost was needed?" we asked.

"O, Heavens no," she replied. "They enjoyed good full lives with holidays and new automobiles. Many of them just squander their money on riotous living. Others, of course, spend it much more wisely. But the majority spend it all. I feel that too few save any money at all for a rainy day. If their strike wins them a greater income, it will all go just the same."

So that was that.

Many Effects

The dual strike has wide ramifications in every nook and cranny of central Vancouver Island. Employees are laying off workmen right and left. Merchants are closing their doors rather than operate on credit and see their stocks dwindle. If a merchant disposes of all his stock on credit, he has nothing to sell for cash when the strike ends. His competitor is thus in a preferred position. Moreover, the stockless merchant has no money to buy more merchandise with. Effects of the strikes are snowballing daily. There is an attitude of universal gloom.

One reputable newspaper in the up-Island area is closed down for holidays. It was not immediately clear just how long a holiday is planned by the newsmen. Another large and long established newspaper is operating this week without one printer on its payroll. Printers normally employed are either holidaying or joining the great army of unemployed.

"How long will the loggers' strike last?" we asked of many residents.

INEVITABLE

"O, until somewhere around the middle of September," was the standard reply. The populace seemed to accept the inevitability of the prolonged continuation of a strike which no one appears to desire. Here is the strange paradox of our industrial way of life.

In Port Alberni the big M. and B. pulp plant is still working. Many sidewalk observers contend that just as soon as the loggers return to work, the big mill will be struck by other workers. So the economy would continue off centre anyway.

Weather was ideal. A visit to Sproat Lake was most enjoyable. There was only one fly in the weekend ointment—and that was the shattered economy of industrial Vancouver Island.

We don't pretend to know the answer to the problem. Men and women we spoke to were generally agreed that they didn't either. But there appeared to be a growing resentment against the strike-bound philosophy of "Poverty in the Midst of Plenty". There are fish to be caught and trees to be felled . . . but we are prevented from doing so because of man-made restrictions. How senseless can we become?

It's refreshing to return to the favored Saanich Peninsula after a sad up-Island tour. Here our economy is anything but industrial. It rests on the broad base of the retired men and women who came here to enjoy life in a favored climate. We wouldn't trade this economy for all the logs in the forest or all the fish in the sea.

ROTARY WINS ASSURED TOP PLACE

League leading Rotary team won one more game this week to strengthen their position by defeating Legion 11-10 in a close game. Legion took a game from Merchants with a score of 7-4 and whipped A.N.A.F. by 10-0 to put themselves in second place. The trailing Merchant team also piled up a tally of 22-1 over the A.N.A.F.

Juvie baseball league standing as of August 4, is as follows:

	P	W	T	L	Pts
Rotary	10	11	1	4	23
Legion	17	9	1	7	19
A.N.A.F.	18	9	0	9	18
Merchants	17	4	2	11	10

Games for the coming week are: Rotary vs. Merchants on Thursday; Legion vs. Merchants at 1 p.m.; and A.N.A.F. vs. Rotary at 3 p.m. on Sunday's double-header; and Merchants vs. Rotary next Tuesday.

A special meeting of the club executives, coaches, managers, and members of the Booster Club has been called for Wednesday, Aug. 12, at 7:30 in SANSCHA hall and all concerned are requested to attend.

on the high trapeze; the Coronas will thrill on the highwire; the Hanneford's will make a welcome reappearance with their trick riding act; these are only a few of the big acts that will perform in the sawdust rings.

Reflections From the Past

10 YEARS AGO

Hundreds of ferry boat passengers and residents of the Sidney area on Tuesday were surprised, when looking towards Sidney Island they saw an 80-foot fish packer high and dry on the spit and leaning over at about 45 degrees. The vessel, Ribac from New Westminster, was heading for the west coast fishing grounds when she ran aground on Monday night. On Tuesday night, at high tide, she was hauled free by the tug Island Despatcher.

Ron Stanton of Mill Bay is planning to seek treasure which he believes is sunk in a Spanish galleon off Long Beach, on the west side of Vancouver Island. Mr. Stanton is searching for an old prospector who about 15 years ago was living in an old shack on the beach and is now living in the Saanich area. He believes the prospector could give him information to lead to the location of the sunken hull.

One of the most unique auto courts on Vancouver Island opened in Sidney on Tuesday. It is the Cedarwood Bungalow Auto Court on Lakeside Drive. The unique court, owned by F. S. Greenwood, was constructed without nails, except for the roof and trim.

Two weddings of interest to Pender Island took place in the past week. Phyllis Hilary Cousineau, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Cousineau, became the bride of Charles E. Brendon, Fulford Harbor, on July 27. The wedding was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Logan with Rev. Father Lariviere officiating. Reception was held in the Port Washington hall. On July 29, June Florence Bowerman, youngest daughter of Mrs. S. Bowerman and the late W. Bowerman became the bride of John Maxwell Allan also of Pender. This wedding was solemnized in the Hope Bay United church with Rev. Mr. Selkirk of Vancouver officiating. A reception was held in the Hope Bay hall.

Announcement was made this week by Harold Fox, Vernon, B.C., that he has purchased the McGraw Sidney Furniture Store on Second

ANNUAL SUPPER OF ANGLICAN CHURCHES HELD

The annual combined St. Andrew's and Holy Trinity Anglican W.A. church supper, which was held at Ardmore Grange, was a big success financially and socially with 175 people in attendance.

The combination of the beautiful setting and delicious meal made for an enjoyable time for all partakers. It is hoped that the weather will enable the committee to carry out the supper again next year.

"A Scent of New-Mown Hay" by John Blackburn, Morrow. 192 pp.

Probably the greatest tragedy of this book is that it could border so close to reality. It is a modernized version of science fiction, re-written to be generally acceptable.

It is not many decades since a highly imaginative story based on an improbable development of science would have been laughed to scorn. In this day of scientific advancement and biological warfare it is too near possibility when a wild imagination takes the wheel. The presentation of the story, in which Russia suddenly forgets her antipathy towards the west and seeks assistance in an unlikely eventuality, but so is the cause of her plan for help.

In its construction the book rarely penetrates the surface and so borrows much of its style from older and more familiar authors, but is presented in a no less acceptable form for the fact of its familiarity.

The plot appears more horrible than horrifying, but that may well have been the intent of the writer. When Tony Hunt assumes his new duties as lecturer he believes that he has left behind the high pressures and interminable hours of research. He and his wife are prepared quite happily to settle down to their new, rather monotonous routine.

That the new life is anything but that is borne out by the story of the horror which rides abroad. It is, incidentally, quite possible that the author has pointed the finger at a fifth horseman to join the legendary four of the Apocalypse.

It is not a masterpiece, but is both interesting and highly original in its conception. It is gripping, even if not absorbing.—F.G.I.R.

"For Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to everyone that believed"

The scripture speaks of those who are "ever learning yet never able to come to the knowledge of the truth". In every day living there can be found those who, while having a good education, are utterly incapable of applying it to the everyday problems and so are really ignorant.

The Jewish nation referred to here is a prime example. They were experts in the Scriptures for they were teachers of the Law. Yet Paul says they were "ignorant of the righteousness of God", and therefore sought to obtain righteousness by adhering to the law. These people, Paul states, have not submitted themselves to the righteousness of God. Righteousness which they could gain by their labors were as "filthy rags" in God's sight and could avail them nothing in regard to eternal life.

Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth. Jew and Gentile today can find righteousness only as a gift from God.

DAWSON CREEK WEDDING INTEREST TO SALT SPRING

Wedding of much interest to Salt Spring Island, took place in Dawson Creek on July 24, when Rev. Frank Chubb of First United Church united in marriage Jeanette Marie Zayha, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Zayha, and Clifford Roy Lee, Jr., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Roy Lee, Sr., of Salt Spring Island.

The attractive ceremony took place at 1:30 p.m., with Mrs. N. Kazakoff playing the wedding music.

Vases of mixed flowers decorated the chancel.

Given in marriage by her father, Gordon Zayha, the young bride was an attractive picture in her summery frock of sheer white organdie. The short ballerina length skirt was crinolined and very full. The slim, sleeveless bodice was of embroidered organdie, the neckline back and front being deeply rounded. An embroiled silver and white candle sconce, with tall white candles, flanked the three-tier wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom. Bowls of mixed flowers completed the decor of the bridal table and the two long guest tables, on either side, forming a "U".

Toast to the bride was proposed by her uncle, Dan Jacobs. Many telegrams of congratulations and good wishes were received and read.

Dancing followed, between the bride and groom left for their wedding trip which is taking them to Edmonton, Trail, where they will visit the groom's brother, Pat Lee, Vancouver, and Salt Spring Island, where they will visit the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Roy Lee, Sr.

For travelling the bride changed to an attractive white linen suit. Her hat and accessories were in pale green and her corsage was of red roses.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Roy Lee will make their home in Dawson Creek. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Dan Jacobs of Spirit River, Alta.; D. McCighe of Progress and Lyle Scribner of Whitehorse, Y.T.

ANNUAL PENDER ISLAND GARDEN PARTY OUTSTANDING SUCCESS

Fine weather favored the annual garden party sponsored by St. Peter's Guild, held last Wednesday, July 29, at Beautyrest Lodge, Pender Island.

Stalls were set up on the spacious lawns, and the tea tables were grouped on the shady north side patio.

The affair was opened at half past two, by the Rt. Rev. Michael Coleman, Bishop of Qu'Appelle, presently holidaying on the island. Capt. C. Claxton was at the gate, and the president of the guild, Mrs. W. J. R. Beech, welcomed the guests, who came from all parts of the island, as well as South Pender, Mayne and Galiano.

Buying was brisk, and the home baking stall, always popular, was soon sold out completely. The produce, and parcel check stalls were all kept busy, while other guild members were in the kitchen, supplying the young servants at the tea tables. The children's fish pond and other attractions pleased the small fry.

Over $250 was taken in by the ladies, who had worked hard for the success of this once a year occasion.

Salt Spring Doctor Reports On Swimmers' Itch At Lake

Dr. T. L. Jansch and his wife, Dr. M. E. Jansch have taken up residence in Ganges. They have purchased the former home and office of Dr. I. Williams, who is now in Vancouver. Dr. Ted Jansch is continuing the outer Gulf Island clinics each Friday.

Following study at Victoria College he went to University of British Columbia, where he graduated in arts in 1949. Dr. Jansch was in the first graduating class in medicine from U.B.C. in 1954. He interned in St. Paul's hospital, Vancouver, and practised in Quesnel until March of 1957. He then went to Ucluelet, Tofino area on the west coast of Vancouver Island. Dr. Jansch is a member of the Canadian Legion.

Dr. Marjory Jansch was born in Los Angeles, Calif., but came to Canada as a child and resided in Metchosh until 1942. She was also a student at Victoria College and U.B.C., graduating in 1950. Dr. Jansch graduated with her husband in 1954, and also interned at St. Paul's. She practised with her husband in Tofino. They were married in 1950 and have two children, Philip, four, and Patricia, two years old.

RESEARCH
Dr. Marjory has done considerable research work on the small parasite which causes swimmers' itch. When she heard St. Mary Lake was causing the itch she immediately went out and gathered some of the water snails, in which the parasite develops. The small parasite is barely visible to the naked eye, burrows into the skin, and causes an intensely itchy reaction. Not all people are sensitive to this. The form of the parasite is the larvae stage of a worm found in waterfowl. When it leaves the snail it is looking for waterfowl but finds the swimmer instead. The doctors said that two ways to avoid

South Pender Resident Passes Away

A resident of South Pender Island for the past eight years, Mrs. Frances Jane James passed away on July 29. Mrs. James, born in Middleton, County Cork, in 1861, married Col. Wm. Chester, R.A.M.C., in Ireland and during his service the couple lived in India and Egypt.

After the colonel's death, his widow married Captain A. B. James, 14th Closures, who came to Canada in 1922 and settled in Kelowna. When Capt. James passed away she moved to Cordova Bay, then Kyuquot, B.C., where she had a large beautiful house and a launch, and lived a happy life, a friend recalled. In September, 1951, she made a fishing trip to South Pender, where she decided to take up residence, selling her Deep Cove home. On Pender, Mrs. James' ivy leaf geraniums were her trademark at Bedwell Harbor where they cascaded in a pink blur, and boats often came to admire and photograph them.

She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Eileen Murray of Ireland; three grandchildren, Brig.-General Peck, officer commanding the Gurkha Division, Malaysia; David Peck in the British Foreign Service, and Mrs. Diana Kellogg Kenagh, Ireland; and one great-grandchild. Funeral services were held in Sands Funeral Chapel, Sidney on August 1, with Rev. C. F. Orman officiating.

Shower Honors Mrs. T. O'Donnell

The Catholic Women's League honored Mrs. Tim O'Donnell (nee Darlene Akerman) with a miscellaneous shower at her home last week. The president, Mrs. A. Marcotte presented the gifts in a beautifully decorated container, also pinned corsages of rosebuds and carnations on the guest of honor, her mother, Mrs. R. Akerman, and mother-in-law, Mrs. T. O'Donnell. Mauve chrysanthemums decorated the home. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Howard Carlin and Mrs. A. Marcotte.

Firebrick contains a greater quantity of sand than normal bricks.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS

When British Columbia Was Born

CHAPTER LVIII

WORLD'S LARGEST

Anyox had a six-mile electric railway, wharves and a coke plant to supply the smelter—the biggest pyritic copper smelter in the world. It was a company town, built half at the mine and half at the shore with a mile and a half of muskeg separating.

Though smelter gases killed all vegetation in Anyox, and it was cut off from the outside world except by twice-weekly steamers, it was a town of comfortable homes—all rented by Granby. There was a fire department and a complete sewer system, public and high schools, a hospital, theatre, gymnasium and company department store.

The town died suddenly in 1935 through dropping copper prices. A 100-ton concentration of blasting powder was exploded in 1935, collapsing the whole side of a mountain, in a search for richer yields, but the search failed.

There is still copper there, but not in large enough quantities per ton of ore to make mining it a profitable venture.

FURTHER ACCESS

Still further north, the Portland Canal is another B.C. waterway which gave access to mineral wealth. It led to establishment of Stewart and Premier on the Alaskan border. In 1898 a Seattle promoter named Burgess is said to have brought 64 men into the head of the canal then led them overland to the headwaters of the Nass, where they hoped to strike it rich.

It was a fruitless trip. But one of the returning prospectors staked the mud flats at the head of the canal—a claim later developed as the Klondike Mine.

The find attracted other gold seekers. J. Wardlaw Stewart took a claim and later with three brothers formed a real estate firm, staked a townsite, which still bears their name.

Portland Canal Mining and Development Company in 1907 installed an aerial tramway and laid 14 miles of steel for what was hoped to be a new access to the Peace River country. It was known as the Canadian North Eastern Railway—but very briefly. It collapsed. Dock, station and round-house was abandoned.

PREMIER MINE

The Premier Mine, 13 miles from Stewart, proved in 1916 and operated to the benefit of the community until 1953 when it closed after paying stockholders $16,000,000 in profits. Stewart boomed to a town of 10,000 in 1910. Today the population stands at 435.

It was the Klondike fever which caused Stewart to be founded, the same fever that brought about the boom at Atlin Lake where 10,000 miners camped in 1900 and 700 live today. The gold find was on Pine Creek on the Yukon border. Most of the prospectors came in from the coast at Skagway—over White Pass. Placer prospecting still goes on at Atlin Lake and a road connection with the Alaskan Highway in 1949 had increased settlement.

Telegraph Creek, 150 miles from Atlin, 168 miles up the Stikine River from Wrangell, Alaska, was another B.C. community born on the gold trail. The rush to Cassiar in the 1860's and the rush to the Klondike in 1898 both followed the Stikine.

RIVERBOATS

There were 18 or 20 riverboats operating in 1899 and they navigated as far as Glenora where a Hudson's Bay Store was located. Total of 8,000 men wintered there in 1899. Later, with improved boats, navigation became possible 12 miles further up-river, and the town moved with the boats—including the store, which was cut in two for the journey.

The new town was rebuilt at Telegraph Creek. From there the pack horses fanned out to Dease Lake, Watson Lake and Lower Post. The name resulted from the building of a telegraph line across northern B.C. after 1866. Quantities of wire and insulators were stored at the head of navigation—Telegraph Creek.

Most of the sparse settlement of the north followed the building of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway from Jasper to Prince Rupert.

Larger Fish Recovered In Area

During the week, fishermen in most areas enjoyed fair fishing, although winds and rough weather did reduce fishing effort in some of the fishing areas. Larger size springs are beginning to show in some areas, with a 42-pound Tyee being taken in the Campbell River area according to the bulletin released by the fisheries department.

In Maple and Cowichan Bay moderate temperatures, clear sunny weather with light winds, enabled fishermen to enjoy fair fishing particularly at dawn and during slack water periods, using spoons, herring strip and plugs. Springs in Cowichan Bay ranged from six to 30 pounds with an average of 12 pounds. Some coho and grise were reported. During the week ending July 25, a total of 38 springs weighing over 20 pounds were weighed in.

While at Mill Bay and entrance to Saanich Inlet grise in large numbers are being reported from Maple Bay, Sansum Narrows to Saanich Inlet giving fair fishing to sportsmen. Good weather prevailed on Sunday, and fishermen averaged four grise per boat, during the evening's fishing. Grise and springs ranging up to nine pounds were taken, mostly on spoons.

Saanich Inlet—Considerable fishing effort was concentrated in this area on Sunday morning with 175 boats counted. The average catch of 1.5 fish per boat was reported as fishermen enjoyed the clear, warm weather. While half the fish reported were grise, the remainder of the catch was made up equally of springs, jacks and coho. Coho taken ranged up to eight pounds, springs averaged 12 pounds, with a higher percentage of larger springs (as high as 35 pounds) being reported.

On the coastline from Sidney, Victoria to Sooke Inlet—Fishing on Sunday was fair to good with the morning the best time with 200 boats showing a concentrated fishing effort. Springs averaged 15 pounds, jacks three and a half pounds, Coho four and a half pounds and pink salmon four and a half pounds.

Experimental Farm Notes

WEEKLY REPORT OF NORTH SAANICH STATION

The story of the jiffy-pots, for plants, a very popular substitute for the old-fashioned clay type, is a very interesting one.

"Jiffy-pots, a Norwegian product, are probably among the most popular clay-pot substitutes used in Europe and America today," so says a Canadian florist publication.

To the unfamiliar, jiffy-pots are shaped like ordinary plant pot containers but instead of being made of clay or plastic are made of peat and wood pulp. It is claimed by some that in the process of manufacturing the pots, the peat is fortified with plant nutrients. Normally, the pots are used for growing transplants such as annuals, perennials, rooted cuttings, etc. They provide excellent root aeration, need less watering and it is claimed they save considerable labor. Roots grow right through the pot walls permitting repotting into larger pots or benches or planting into the garden without removing the jiffy-pot. They are relatively inexpensive and long lasting for the purpose intended. They result in a quicker start and faster growth according to some users.

Since jiffy-pots were first introduced about six years ago their popularity has increased tremendously—so much so that their Norwegian manufacturers are producing 24 hours a day and planning on building a factory in the United States. The story behind jiffy-pots obtained from a Norwegian trade journal and carried in the Canadian Florist makes interesting reading, not so much for the information it tells about the product but more particularly because it is a remarkable success story.

"The inventors and manufacturers of jiffy-pots are Odd Nelvold and Lief Frns Koxvold, two gentlemen who years ago started in business under the name of Chok-In-Industrie, manufacturing Christmas decorations and other accessories for the florist trade.

VERY POPULAR

After experimenting with different materials for nearly three years they introduced the first jiffy-pots six years ago. These were nearly all exported and proved to be so popular that it was found to be necessary to build a new factory.

During 1956, four machines produced four million pots.

The factory now houses eight machines which are in production day and night and which turn out 400 million pots per year. Ninety-five per cent of jiffy pots are exported to 18 countries. The U.S.A. and Canada are the best customers buying 35 per cent of the total production! Germany follows with 25 per cent and Denmark, Belgium, Holland and Sweden with 10 per cent between them. Plans for the building of a second factory to cope with the demand are now in an advanced stage, and before long a third factory will be built in the U.S.A. in an attempt to cut out the freight-charges on the pots from Norway.

It is envisaged that during the season 1963-64 a total of 2,000 million jiffy-pots will be manufactured, five times the present output. Messrs. Nelvold and Koxvold have kept it no secret that jiffy-pots consist of 70 per cent peat and 30 per cent wood-pulp. At present the factory uses seven tons of peat every 24 hours. This peat must be prepared before it can go into the machines and for this the firm employs a staff of 100 men working in three shifts.

In many countries jiffy-pots are now used in all branches of horticulture and even in forestry. Undoubtedly much of their popularity is due to the fact that the pots contain a high percentage of peat which largely eliminates the temporary "starvation" symptoms which usually follow the planting out of plants in paper and fibre pots.

C.N.R. APPOINTMENT

William P. Moffat, a native of Winnipeg, has been appointed assistant chief of transportation, C.N.R., with headquarters in Montreal.

culture and even in forestry. Undoubtedly much of their popularity is due to the fact that the pots contain a high percentage of peat which largely eliminates the temporary "starvation" symptoms which usually follow the planting out of plants in paper and fibre pots.

INTERNATIONAL PICNIC HELD AT PORT ANGELES

By B. C. HAMILTON.

Women of British Columbia and the United States met in an international picnic at Port Angeles on July 28, the fifth of its kind to be held.

Over 183 members of the South Vancouver Island W.I. travelled on the M.V. Kalakala and were met by Mrs. M. Reid of Port Angeles, who escorted the visitors to the picnic grounds at Fairview Grange Park. They were welcomed by the president of the Clallam County Homemakers' Club, Mrs. Ward Ball, who introduced the officers of their board; Mrs. Clarence Colby, Mrs. R. L. Bridgen and Mrs. Toni Masi. Mrs. E. Robinson, president of the South Vancouver Island W.I., presented the B.C. board: Mrs. H. Lauritzen, Mrs. E. H. Emery, and directors Mrs. H. E. McCordack and Mrs. Ingram of Victoria.

Tables for the picnic were laid out in colors of yellow, blue, green and red, and the visitors were handed tickets to correspond with each table.

After the picnic, the entertainment program took over and was arranged by Mrs. James Fish. The Star Spangled Banner and O Canada were sung, then the Pomona Grange chorus, directed by Mrs. E. Judd, sang several selections, and then led the community singing. Young Pat Haggerty, gave the 4-H dairy food demonstration and presented 17 different assortments of cheese, salads, etc. Pat is 14 and is studying for a scholarship in the Washington State 4-H demonstration contest to be held in Yakima. His demonstration of cheese delicacies were so tempting that a number of the members present went off to the Olympus Hotel to order cheese-burgers and found them delicious.

This border picnic was planned by the Advisory Council of the Clallam County Homemakers' Club and is a means of bringing the women of the U.S. and Canada together.

There are six million women of the world who meet in clubs—they branch out in ever-expanding get-togethers—some are called Women's Institutes, as in Canada; some are Homemakers, as in the United States, and the Country Women of the World, as in the Old Country—wherever they are—who ever they are—these women work and plan and toil to help others less fortunate. They relax now and then and visit one another as they did last week in Port Angeles, and have a good time. Who was the poor man who wrote: "Disguise our bondage as we will; 'Tis women, women rules us still."

I think it was Moore; and another poet—Milton, this time—could have been writing about the Women's In-

25TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Foubister were guests of honor recently when Mr. and Mrs. Laurie Mout and Mr. and Mrs. E. Gear entertained on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary. Held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mout, reception rooms featured floral arrangements of Esther Reids and delphiniums, while centering the lace-covered table was a silver anniversary cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Foubister were the recipients of two beautiful laquered copper bowls and Mrs. Foubister was presented with a corsage of roses and carnations.

Bridge was enjoyed during the evening by the following guests: Mrs. I. B. Devine, Mrs. M. Fellows, Mr. and Mrs. M. Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hardie, Mr. and Mrs. C. Mout, Mr. and Mrs. Mac Mout, Mrs. Joyce Parsons, Mrs. Art Young, Mr. and Mrs. S. Wagg, Jake Barker and Harry Extel.

stutes of the world when he wrote: "For nothing lovelier can be found in women than to study household good."

For that is what they do—and practice, in their communities, everywhere, all over the world.

"For if she will, she will, you may depend on't; and if she won't, she won't, and there's an end on't."

ANNUAL ANGLICAN GARDEN FETE AT HARBOUR HOUSE

Glorious weather last week saw large crowds gathering in Harbor House grounds at Ganges for the annual garden fete sponsored by six Anglican organizations. The breeze off Ganges Harbor stirred the dozens of colored flags strung throughout the grounds and carried the pleasant recorded background music over the scene.

Archdeacon G. H. Holmes introduced W. F. (Bus) Matthews, M.P., who opened the affair which raised $825 for the funds. Mr. Matthews congratulated the workers and Archdeacon Holmes for the splendid afternoon effort which each year proves so successful, financially and socially. He also thanked Col. Desmond Crofton for the use of Harbor House and the grounds which form such a beautiful setting. Mrs. Holmes presented a lovely corsage to Mrs. Matthews.

Members of St. Mary's Guild, Fulford, were in charge of the tea, served on the verandah, and in the Shamrock Room. Arrangements were under Mrs. F. L. Jackson and Miss G. Shaw assisted by members. Mrs. A. M. Butt took tea tickets.

The many stalls did a brisk business during the afternoon. Mrs. C. E. Leggett and Mrs. J. Byron co-convened the flower stall; Mrs. W. Norton was in charge of the apron stall; Mrs. G. Laundry sold candy; Mrs. V. L. Jackson and Mrs. A. B. Barber handled the sewing stall; Mrs. A. E. Duke, Mrs. T. Carlyle, Mrs. D. A. Lowther, Mrs. H. T. Minchin, Mrs. A. Agnew, Mrs. W. Wells and Miss M. Harrington were kept busy at the Vesuvius Circle home cooking and sale of work; Mrs. Charles Mout, Miss F. Aitken and Mrs. N. Howland handled St. Mark's home produce stall; Mrs. V. C. Best, Mrs. A. R. Price, Mrs. H. Price, Mrs. N. Walters, Mrs. C. Elliott and Mrs. D. G. Crofton were in charge of St. George's home cooking produce; Mrs. J. F. Hawksworth and Mrs. D. Seward co-convened St. George's Evening Branch delicatessen; Mrs. H. C. Carter and Mrs. G. B. Young had a bottled goods stall; Mrs. J. Mitchell and Mrs. H. Deyell had the white elephant stall; and Miss J. Mitchell handled the popular jewellery and book table.

During the afternoon a number of amusements were enjoyed by the guests. An American tennis tournament was run by Bob Morris and winners were John Fredericks and Miss Sharon Crofton; runner-ups, Mrs. D. Johnson and Miss Coline Mout; and consolation, Miss Linda Netherfield and John Sturdy, Jr. Many preferred the swimming pool, to cool off, and this was in charge of Miss Susan Fellows and Mrs. J. W. A. Green. Donald Olsen was winner of the clock golf game, in charge of Mrs. H. A. Robinson. The dart game, under V. C. Morris was won by J. W. A. Green. David Par-

Williams, Richard Wells, and Patricia Wilson.

The last two days of the series of lessons were devoted to testing the ability of the children and to friendly competition and games. First prize winners were: Endurance swim (six tied for first): Brian Cunningham, Kenneth Ashlee, Peter Green, Louise Lorentsen, Fern Warren and Mark Williams; 50 yards, two heats, Donald Morrison and Cameron Humphreys; 25 yards (beginners), Heather Humphreys; duck diving, Freda Nobbs and Keith Stevens (tie); and back stroke, Richard Wells.

Cold drinks and cookies were enjoyed by the swimmers at the end of the afternoon. George Heinekey, school board chairman, presented the first prizes which were silver dollars. Swimming And Respiration Classes Are Presented

Over 200 children and parents gathered on the beach at Vesuvius Bay last Friday for the wind-up of a 16-day course of swimming lessons under the instruction of Mrs. W. Luth, of Ganges. Eighty-one children participated in the classes which were convened by Mrs. J. W. A. Green and sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association. Mrs. Luth has been a swimming enthusiast since the age of five. In 1927 she was a member of a crack women's swimming team in her native Germany. They won many awards and became famous in the athletic club there, established since 1862. For ten years Mrs. Luth has been a professional instructor. She took the government supervised swimming instruction examinations to achieve this position and since emigrating to Canada in recent years has continued in this field. This is her first large class on the island and many children were heard to remark: "We want to take lessons again next year." Mrs. Luth is a favorite with young and old alike.

Lessons were also given in the Holger-Neilson method of artificial respiration by Mrs. V. J. Harroway. Mrs. Harroway is a St. John Ambulance instructor, and was assisted by Mr. Harroway and Mrs. A. Hudson. Twenty-seven children receiving official certificates from her were: Cathy Akerman, Stephen Alexander, Kenneth Ashlee, Janice Booth, Brian Cunningham, Lillian Cunningham, Gillian French, Gillian Green, Gillian and Heather Humphreys, Larry Empey, Alan Holmberg, Peter Green, Ann Harvey, Cherie Horel, Louise and Lynne Lorentsen, Darlene Marcotte, Sandy McLeod, Freda Nobbs, Margaret Reid, Kelly Ryland, Keith Stevens, Sandra Sutton, Fern Warren, Mark

NEWEST MARINA SERVICE OPERATED BY BROTHERS

North Saanich's newest boat service centre is Century Marina, located on the site of the former Wilsonia Inn beside the government wharf on Madrona Drive.

Two brothers, A. M. and A. H. Egeland, started construction of their marina in July of 1958, centennial year, hence the name of their marina.

The marina has foreshore rights of 100 feet and the installation has been approved for an extension to 360 feet from the shore. The main pier of the marina is 260 feet long and has six wings projecting from the sides of the main pier each of which is 40 feet long. The present capacity of the wharf is 35 craft, but its owners hope to build the business to accommodate 70 or 100 craft. The brothers also have 50 feet of water-rights to the right of their wharf which they hope in the future to use.

The marina is equipped to dispense two types of gas, oil, fishing supplies, several types of outboard motors, and paint supplies. Century Marina will soon have a marine railway and launching ramp for trailer facilities. This will offer a service to the water enthusiast who takes his boat home after each outing. When the ways is completed, small repairs and painting will be undertaken.

TWO YEARS' SEARCH

Henry and Andrew Egeland came from Rosetown, Sask., in 1956 and spent two years looking for a good location in which to start a marina service. Henry is no newcomer to the west coast, having served in the navy with Pacific Command, stationed at Esquimalt. Andrew holds his end of the business very well as he has 15 years of welder-mechanic experience behind him. The Egeland brothers have been doing very well with their new venture and have had their docking facilities filled with craft since they commenced operation. The marina will be expanded from time to time. It is their hope to construct a general store and repair shop above the marina.

AIR CADETS AT CAMP FOR TWO WEEKS' TRAINING

Fifteen air cadets from Sidney left with their instructor, W. DeMacedo, at 5.30 a.m. on Sunday, by bus for two weeks' training at the R.C.A.F. station on Sea Island. They were met at Nanaimo by a group of air cadets from that area and journeyed together to the base.

Across the road they own six lots, which they hope to develop into a marina court. Henry explained that they have had several American and Canadian boat enthusiasts who after several days at sea wish to spend some time on land enjoying the sights ashore. At present there are no facilities for these tourists and it is their hope to provide such accommodation. The marina court which they hope to build will be from 15 to 18 units but is still in the planning stage.

LONG HAUL

Remarking on the many visitors to the marina and where they come from Henry mentioned a couple from Nevada who had pulled their craft across several states behind their car and when they reached a suitable launching spot, unloaded their boat from the trailer and left car and trailer behind and proceeded the rest of their trip by boat.

The couple had told Mr. Egeland that despite the fact that Nevada is surrounded by desert, just about every house has a boat and a trailer at its side.

Another couple from Portland were touring up and down the coast in an 18-foot boat equipped with twin 35 h.p. outboard motors. People come and go in all types of craft, he remarked, from the large cabin cruiser to the party who sailed to Comox in a 14-foot boat.

Looking to the future, Henry remarked: "I can see nothing but a good future for marina service as people are more and more taking to the waterways instead of the crowded highways."

GUIDE NOTES

The combined Elk Lake-Sidney Girl Guide swimming party and bonfire did not materialize mainly to the failure of the Elk Lake group coming down with the flu. The Sidney group took in the swimming party at Mr. Eaton's pool. This was the last scheduled event until next fall when events will be resumed.

Doctor Of Two Nations

DR. UGO ARENA

Dr. Ugo Arena is the newest member of Associated Physicians, Sidney, and brings with him a number of years' experience both in his native Italy and in Canada.

Dr. Arena graduated from the University of Milan in 1942 and specialized in surgery until he came to this country in 1954. It was while he was in practice in Italy that he met his talented wife, Rose, who was in Milan studying voice. Mrs. Arena contacted bronchitis and sought the services of Dr. Arena, who cured, courted and captivated her heart. The good lady is no stranger to this country having been born in Edmonton, Alta., and spent most of her childhood there.

Moving to Vancouver, the doctor found that it was necessary to be able to read and write English before he would be allowed to pursue his profession. After studying English he passed his exams and went before the Canadian Medical Board where he was accepted as a candidate to study the basic sciences. Upon completing and passing the exams in English he then spent a year at St. Paul's hospital, Vancouver, and another at the Royal Jubilee hospital, as an interne before writing the exams set by the Medical Council of Canada.

DOCTOR IN TWO COUNTRIES

The doctor, now holding that degree in both Italian and Canadian medical circles, started practice in Sidney on July 13.

Dr. and Mrs. Arena and their two-year-old son, Joseph, were pleased to find the climate very warm and the people even warmer to their arrival. Mrs. Arena was surprised at how handy everything is in the area, being close to the stores and beaches. Her husband remarked how impressed he was with the facilities at Rest Haven hospital and how unique the setting. "The people of this area are very fortunate not having to wait to be admitted to the hospitals," he said. In Vancouver it is not uncommon for very sick people to have to wait some time to be admitted to the crowded hospitals.

The couple stated they enjoy life very much in Sidney and they have found that young Joseph is putting on more weight since residing here. The only objection the lad has is the noise of the fire system which is close to their living quarters in the Turner Apartments.

Ever since Eve, we've found apples a tempting fruit. Try them in this perfect-setting, crisp flavoured Apple Jelly. Delicious!

APPLE JELLY
5 cups juice (about 3 quarts ripe apples)
7 1/2 cups (3 1/2 lbs.) sugar
1/2 bottle Certo

To prepare juice, Remove blossom and stem ends from about 3 quarts fully ripe apples. Cut in small pieces, but do not peel or core. (With soft, very sweet apples, add 2 tablespoons lemon juice.) Add 3 cups water, bring to a boil and simmer, covered, 10 minutes. Crush with masher and simmer, covered, 5 minutes longer. Place in a jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. Measure 5 cups into a very large saucepan.

To make jelly, Add sugar to juice in saucepan, and mix well. Place over high heat and bring to a boil, stirring constantly. At once stir in Certo. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard for 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, skim off foam with metal spoon, and pour quickly into glasses. Cover at once with 1/4 inch hot paraffin. Makes about 12 medium glasses.

Pectin is the part of every fruit that puts the "jelly" into your jelly or jam. Some fruits have a lot of pectin, others very little. To even things up, we've taken this natural gelling substance from pectin-rich fruits, refined and concentrated it, and named it Certo. Your jams and jellies always set with Certo because it supplies the extra natural pectin so many fruits need.

Preserving Pointers. If your recipe calls for just 1/2 bottle of Certo, re-use the rest, store in your refrigerator and use it within a month.

Count on us when you turn into a preserving problem. Just drop a note to Frances Barton, General Foods Kitchens, 44 Eglinton Ave. W., Toronto, and I'll do my best to help. Another return soon, with another interesting jam or jelly recipe!
